

Week beginning 4th May 2020

Learning continues in school for children of Key Workers. Each day there are a selection of structured, core activities, alongside this week's practical activities including VE Anniversary Day preparations, book scavenger hunts and other engaging tasks.

Here's a taste of what has been happening in school recently:

We learnt more about Vocations and how we are all called by God to be who He wants us to be. Dan and Emily's worship enabled us to reflect on our own vocation. Father Michael Dolman, Vocations Director, shared scripture from Jeremiah: 'Before I gave you life and before you were born, I chose you to be prophet to the nations'. We linked our learning to this half term's virtue from the Catholic Profile- how can we be eloquent and truthful in our lives and how can we share this virtue with those meet?

We kept active learning football skills with Mr Lewis....

We designed and made our own ideal playgrounds.....

We learnt a lot about VE Day and discussed what life was like in 1945. We talked about the celebrations and street parties that took place 75 years ago. We did activities that children many years ago would have done at school and in their homes.

Street Party Races...

Making and flying paper aeroplanes...

We added more layers to our paper maché.....

We designed and made puppets from the book scavenger hunt....

A delivery of new reading books arrived in school. The PTA kindly donated towards the overall cost of these books. Our thanks goes to our hardworking PTA as well as to Mr Simmons who managed to secure a bargain and purchased £3000 worth of books for £500.
